An ASML Book for EUV Context, and Vibe Reframed for the AI Era

By Recommended Reading from Tech Founders • June 20, 2026

Two organic book recommendations stood out today. Sarah Guo shared a book on ASML for readers who want more EUV background, while Elad Gil resurfaced Vibe as a 20-year-old book that still feels relevant to the current AI moment.

What stood out

Today's authentic recommendations were both books, but they served different purposes: Sarah Guo pointed readers to an ASML book for concrete EUV background, while Elad Gil resurfaced Vibe as a surprisingly apt read for the current AI moment [1, 2]. There was no overlap across recommenders, so today's signal comes from the specificity of each recommendation rather than repeat endorsement [1, 2].
