Bill Gurley Flags Nathan Lambert’s Detailed Look Inside China’s AI Labs

By Recommended Reading from Tech Founders • May 9, 2026

Bill Gurley’s standout recommendation today was Nathan Lambert’s “Notes from Inside China’s AI Labs.” The signal was simple but strong: Gurley called it a great read with amazing details, making it the clearest high-signal resource to save.

Most compelling recommendation

Bill Gurley pointed readers to Nathan Lambert’s Notes from Inside China’s AI Labs, calling it a “great read” with “amazing details” [1, 2].

Notes from Inside China’s AI Labs

- Content type: Article / report [2]
- Author/creator: Nathan Lambert [1, 2]
- Link/URL: <https://www.interconnects.ai/p/notes-from-inside-chinas-ai-labs> [2]
- Who recommended it: Bill Gurley [1]
- Key takeaway: Gurley’s endorsement centered on the piece’s depth rather than a single extracted lesson: he described it as a “great read” with “amazing details” [1]
- Why it matters: That makes this a strong save for readers who want a more substantive resource, since the recommendation was specifically about the level of detail in the piece [1]

“Great read. Amazing details.” [1]

Why this stands out

What makes this recommendation useful is its specificity: Gurley did not just pass along a link; he explicitly praised the quality and detail of the piece, and the full article URL was included alongside the recommendation [1, 2].
